

(Read ebook) Playbook for Teens: Meet fascinating women in STE@M Follow their "plays" Create your Dream Career

Playbook for Teens: Meet fascinating women in STE@M Follow their "plays" Create your Dream Career

Cari Lyn Vinci, Carleen MacKay
ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook

#2084882 in Books Carleen Mackay Cari Vinci 2014-04-19Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 11.00 x .23 x 8.50l, .54 #File Name: 149912852594 pagesPlaybook for Teens Meet Fascinating Women in Ste m Follow Their Plays Create Your Dream Career | File size: 72.Mb

Cari Lyn Vinci, Carleen MacKay : Playbook for Teens: Meet fascinating women in STE@M Follow their "plays" Create your Dream Career before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Playbook for Teens: Meet fascinating women in STE@M Follow their "plays" Create your Dream Career:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. What a GREAT resource for Teens Following their Dreams!By Lisa F. DreadfulwaterOut of the 500+ books that I have read since I have been in high school, I have yet to wander across something unique to "journaling" a career as Cari and Carlene have created. So many business/leadership and spirituality books touch on the importance of looking at yourself from the outside-in, but have not taken the same approach in the sense of being able to journal WITHIN the book itself. I absolutely love this part of the Playbook. This will be so helpful to those who read (I found myself with a separate notebook while reading as to not damage the book for people I will share it with). I highly recommend Playbook for Teens as early as middle school for females to start creating their "Career Sweet Spot", or for developing interests in STEM careers that they never thought possible! Thank you Cari and Carlene for a wonderful publication. Some of the key phrases that I noted while reading: "Art of the start" ...connect what's important to you Create your "Career Sweet Spot" - the intersection of many elements "If it doesn't challenge you, it won't change you." "Take one bite at a time" ...and explore, adjust, earn and grow while learning more about options available Mackenzie O'Brian's "Cogwheel Approach" (Allie's note: I SEE ME DOING THIS IN THE FITNESS WORLD!) "Look at life as a year-round school" 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Career Tool! By Tracy DiFilippis What an important resource for our youth! Without hearing the stories of STEAM professionals, especially women, our young ladies will not know about the amazing opportunities that exist for them in the field. They will not come to be inspired through 'real life' career path journeys that they could potentially relate to. My gratitude to the authors for compiling the various vignettes that motivate and encourage youth and women of all ages to find the 'sweet spot' and understand the 'art of the start'! This is a gem for career practitioners, counselors, coaches, and educators to use in small groups or individually. Tracy DiFilippis M.S. GCDF Career Educator 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Cari has been a leader in STEAM education for years ... By Edward Abeyta Cari has been a leader in STEAM education for years. Her book provides a genuine connection to real-life examples of putting the concepts of STEAM into practice. UC San Diego recently welcome the new home of Sally Ride Science at UC San Diego, and this book, connects well with many of the tenets Sally believed and practiced. If you are into STEAM then this should be part of your library collection.

Meet fascinating women in STE@M, follow their "plays and create your Dream Career. This book is real-life storytelling at its best. Sharing their career-changing challenges, discoveries, actions and results, the young women of STE@M prove that using knowledge of software or technology, engineering, art or math is required in almost all fields the new workplace demands. Set aside endless graphs and tedious analytics. Instead, reflect upon the inspirational words and imagery painted by powerful young women whose experiences foretell success at a time of great workplace change. Our story-tellers, successful pioneers in the new world of work, have written this beautifully illustrated book to and for you in your high school years. Their powerful words will inspire the courageous, offer staying power to the ambitious and daring to those who have been held-back by misplaced fear the STE@M word sometime evokes. For example, you'll meet a young woman from a poor family whose parents did not encourage thoughts of college and whose greatest ambition throughout much of her high school years was to paint pictures on a pier in San Francisco. A teacher inspired her, mentored her and encouraged her to explore the connections between science, art and life. She began to see other options for her life. Unfortunately, life changing challenges in her family interfered with her new-found ambitions. So, how did this young woman overcome life's trials and find a new direction filled with adventure, travel and exciting work? How did she become one of our real-life models for today's teens? How might she inspire you? Well for those answers, you will have to read the rest of her story. It's in the book! While the book is intended to inspire teens who are looking at preparing for a future unlike the past; it is an equally important reading experience for teachers, parents and friends who are travelers sharing the road to the future.

This e-workbook was co-authored by two of my favorite career wizards. Einstein and others are right that people are motivated to learn when the lessons relate to their life experiences. We can all learn from the STEM career journeys and plays of these young women. Me, Inc. has a powerful message that relates to all learning, If it doesn't challenge you, it won't change you. Maureen E. White, M.A., Ed.D., SPHR Doing What Matters for Jobs the Economy Career [Technical] Education Practices Workforce Economic Development Division CA Community Colleges Chancellor's Office About the Author Cari Lyn Vinci is founder of InVINCible Enterprises, an organization designing digital products to empower smart, talented teenage girls to become our future business leaders and entrepreneurs. In production is ME, Inc. It provides Role Models, a Game Plan and Mentoring to encourage teens to enter thriving careers in STE@M industries. Cari is a serial entrepreneur. As president of FranNet West, she coached adults to become the CEOs of their lives. She has hired and motivated over 700 sales consultants, designed training programs, written a book on meeting management, and founded Team da Vinci, a Commercial Division of Keller Williams Real Estate. This Playbook is part of the start of ME, Inc. Carleen McKay Emergent Workforce Expert U.S. Carleen is a nationally recognized keynoter, panelist and new product and service developer for clients in all sectors of the economy. She specializes in helping the multi-generational workforce understand the emergent century workplace and adjust their planning in order to meet the demands of a structural shift as unlike any changes the country has experienced in the past half century. Author or co-author of five books on behalf of workers, Carleen's most recent work includes co-authoring Live Smart after 50 and a series of half a dozen similar Playbooks for all demographics and generations that are either working in or planning to work in the U.S. workplace.