

Power Up Your Job Search: A Modern Approach To Interview Preparation

Gary Capone, Mark Henderson
ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

 Download

 Read Online

#4722023 in Books 2009-03-04Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 9.00 x .32 x 6.00l, .43 #File Name: 1441491538138 pages | File size: 46.Mb

Gary Capone, Mark Henderson : Power Up Your Job Search: A Modern Approach To Interview Preparation before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Power Up Your Job Search: A Modern Approach To Interview Preparation:

4 of 4 people found the following review helpful. That's All you Need For interviewsBy LaiBook points out critical essentials to interviewees of all levels, whether fresh from college or a seasoned interviewee. An interviewee will feel better prepared after covering the questions from the exercises. In fact the exercises give an interviewee a hands-on approach. The exercises have definitely enhanced the quality of this book as the exercises enable an interviewee to be prepared for possible questions asked in an interview. Going into an interview with confidence is an additional asset, something not many interviewees have. Book also provides a powerful tool also for the interviewer, enabling an interviewer to seek out the candidate he/she wants, even pointing out the off limit questions. Book examines every possible strategy of how to be a successful interviewee and interviewer due to the wide range of topics covered. The book does live up to its claim of providing a short, concise and a comprehensive tool for successful interviewing and successful hiring. Two things needed: I find that need improvement is the front cover. To catch the eye of a potential buyer in a bookstore, the book should have a more appealing front cover design. Also do need some sample resumes and styles of resume as part of the job searching. Congratulations for well written book on interview preparation. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. A Straight-Forward Approach to Gaining YOUR Chosen Career By G. Reba Interviews can be difficult for both the person seeking the opening as well as the person asking the questions. Just how stressful depends on your perspective of the meeting at hand, but one thing we can be certain about...we all feel at least a smidge better when preparations have been made in advance. How does one prepare for an interview? You have your normal routine...dress for success, bring a resume, be familiar with where you are going so as to meet at the appropriate time, etc, but what about anticipating the questions they may ask? Having "prepared" answers to common inquires? Or even what questions you will ask of the interviewer? These topics and more are well covered within the pages of this book. Through preparation, we reach a certain comfort level with which we can work through stressful events. Tactics suggested range include the STAR(L) method for answering questions based upon your experience, knowing what topics are off limits, the suggestion of staging mock interviews, and even a list of general suggested questions for your part in the proceedings. A powerful guide to add to your arsenal of skills for both the interviewer and interviewee, authors Gary W. Capone and Mark Henderson have brought together the information needed to meet your next career goal. Through both informative text and practical exercises, every reader should be able to raise their performance level in these situations. Who knows...maybe you'll land then job of your dreams...if not, you'll at least walk away with the confidence to see that THEY missed out on a great opportunity.[...] 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. All In One By Amy W Gary Capone and Mark Henderson couldn't have made this any easier for the new or old job seekers. Everything you need to know can all be found in one book. As a young adult, with very little interviewing experience, I found this book to be a necessity. It covers all aspects of the interviewing process, broken down into an easily remembered STAR(L) method. With easy to follow directions, exercises, and tips, this book has it all. For me personally, I feel that the exercises are the most valuable pieces of information I can take away and use in my own interviews. I am the type of person who tends to babble on in interviews and am sometimes unsure of what I should say or should not say. These step-by-step preparation techniques make it so easy and simple to mentally prepare for interviews. Everything is broken down into easy to follow chapters that not only give you an insight into what the employer is looking for, but also what as an individual you can bring to the interview.

The Power Up Approach to Interview Preparation simplifies the interview prep process into a series of quick, easy and effective steps. The approach was developed by executive recruiters, Gary W. Capone and Mark Henderson, and incorporates powerful techniques proven to be effective. The Power Up Approach will benefit job seekers at all levels, including new graduates just entering the workforce, professionals looking for the next step in their career, transitioning military personnel and seasoned executives. This book will give you the tools you need to sell your potential to an employer, through a series of lessons, each packed full of advice, techniques and exercises. For many professionals, following our approach will give you a distinct advantage over the competition.

About the Author Gary W. Capone is Vice President and cofounder of Palladian International, LLC. He is a graduate of the Management and Technology Program at the University of Pennsylvania, where he concurrently earned a Bachelor's of Science in Mechanical Engineering and a Bachelor's of Science in Economics from the Wharton School of Business. Mr. Capone has experience in manufacturing, distribution, accounting, finance and human resources, gained from positions at PriceWaterhouseCoopers, Newell-Rubbermaid, Kforce, Raymond James and Target Corp. In 2006, he joined the Board of Directors of the Blue Ridge Chapter of APICS and in 2009 was elected Chapter President. Mark Henderson is President and cofounder of Palladian International. He graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree from Norwich University and a Masters degree from Central Michigan University. He is also a graduate of the Defense Language School (Portuguese) and the US Army War College. Mr. Henderson served in the United States Army for 28 years, rising to the rank of Colonel. While in the Army, he had assignments in the Infantry, Transportation and Personnel, commanding units at the Company, Battalion and Brigade levels and served in locales around the globe. His military awards include the Defense Superior Service Medal, the Legion of Merit and the Order of St. Christopher. In 2002, Mark was selected as a Distinguished Member of the US Army Transportation Regiment. Mr. Henderson transitioned from the military to the corporate world, where he held positions of responsibility in Distribution, Operations and Transportation. He has served on the Greater Augusta County United Way Board of Directors, The Waynesboro Country Club Board of Directors, and is currently the President of the Atlantic Coast Collegiate Hockey League, comprising teams from UVA, Virginia Tech, Duke, UNC, Georgetown, and NC State.