Hilary Pert Stecklein MD : Recognizing Common Illnesses in Early Childhood Settings (Redleaf Quick Guides) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Recognizing Common Illnesses in Early Childhood Settings (Redleaf Quick Guides):

Childhood illnesses present themselves in many ways. This Redleaf Quick Guide is a medical resource to help caregivers and parents recognize the symptoms of common childhood illnesses and take appropriate action to maintain healthy environments. Symptoms include those for vaccine-preventable, respiratory, gastrointestinal, skin disorder, parasite, and chronic illnesses.

About the Author Hilary Pert Strecklein, MD, is a pediatrician and clinical associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Minnesota. She has held roles as assistant chairman for the department of pediatrics and adolescent medicine, chief of professional service, and regional medical director at HealthPartners. She has also given various presentations and keynotes.
