If the following review matters to you as well, be sure to contact the seller for such specifics. I received what appeared to be an "older" style version of the same ISBN workbook, so for the sake of my rant the 'old' version is what is received whereas 'new' is what I should have received (like what the rest of my class had). The 'old' version is not perforated, has binder ring holes, and very thin brown paper you can see the next page through. This just does not work for use of mechanical pencils (tear through); pens colored or not (they imprint on the next page or bleed through); or highlighters (bleed through). I've purchased and more frequently have seen the workbook with solid white paper, no holes and sometimes but not always perforated (not sure why). Additionally, my 'old' one was re-shrinkwrapped over the scuffs and wear of the book. Newer versions have plastic wrap with a fold for easy removal --whereas the one I received was the plastic shrunk with a heat gun and sloppily done at that. I repurchased the book from to ensure I had right quality of workbook for my studies. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Awesome work book By C. L. S This manual is great, it works perfect for helping you get accustomed to writing Japanese. It works especially well if paired with the Nakama 1b text book. Each of the exercises corresponds to the topics covered in the text book. It really helps you reinforce your learning. Highly recommended! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Product! By Phillip Cardon Great Product!

Designed to reinforce the association of sound, syntax, and meaning, the SAM includes out-of-class practice of the material presented in the textbook. The Workbook section focuses on written vocabulary, grammar, kanji and writing practice. The Lab Manual section focuses on pronunciation and listening comprehension, including Dict-a-Conversation dictation activities.

About the Author Yukiko Abe Hatasa received her Ph.D. in linguistics in 1992 from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. She has taught all levels of Japanese for over twenty-five years, and has worked on curriculum development and teacher training in five major institutions in the US, Australia, and Japan. She is known nationwide as one of the premier Japanese methodologists in the US and Japan. She is currently a professor of Japanese pedagogy at Hiroshima University. Kazumi Hatasa received his Ph.D. in education in 1989 from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He is currently a professor at Purdue University and Director of the Japanese School at Middlebury College. He is recognized internationally for his work in software development for the Japanese language and distributes most of his work as freeware over the Internet. Seiichi Makino received his Ph.D. in linguistics in 1968 from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. He is an internationally prominent Japanese linguist and scholar who is recognized throughout the world for his scholarship and for his many publications. Before beginning his tenure at Princeton University in 1991, he taught Japanese language, linguistics, and culture at the University of Illinois while training lower division language coordinators. He is an experienced ACTFL oral proficiency trainer in Japanese and frequently trains Japanese instructors internationally in proficiency-oriented instruction and in the administration of the Oral Proficiency Interview. Professor Makino has been the Academic Director of the Japanese Pedagogy M.A. Summer Program at Columbia University since 1996. He also directs the Princeton-in-Ishikawa Summer Program. In 2014, the Japanese government honored Dr. Seiichi Makino with a decoration: The Order of the Sacred Treasure, Gold Rays with Neck Ribbon, for his outstanding contributions in the mutual academic exchanges between Japan and the United States and the development of Japanese language education.
