Don't limit this book to it's titleBy christopher bohnAwesome book ! Don't let the title fool you though. There's so much more to it than just a book on home cel groups and bible studies ...this book of course is about home cel groups along with church growth spiritual growth and maturity etc. If you are anything more than a Sunday Christian then read this book and do something with it !0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. So GoodBy A CustomerA simple book with methods proven by a man who has a massive church! Love how simple he has made these biblical principles and stuck by them too!

Paul Yonggi Cho describes his church as both the smallest and the largest in the world. The plan of home cell groups developed there has brought about not only phenomenal growth, but also intimate fellowship and involvement. He details everything you need to know to make home cell groups work.

About the AuthorDavid Yonggi Cho is Senior Pastor of the Yoido Full Gospel Church, which is the world's largest known congregation, with a membership of approximately 780,000. In November 1976, Cho founded Church Growth International, an organization dedicated to teaching the principles of evangelism and church growth to pastors all over the world. In January 1986, he led the way in establishing the Elim Welfare Town, a facility for the elderly, the young, the homeless, and the unemployed. The latter would be given training and a choice of four occupations. In March of the same year, he founded Hansei University. He was Chairman of the World Assemblies of God Fellowship from 1992 to 2000, and has served as Chairman of the Korean Christian Leaders Association since November 1998. He has also served as Chairman of the Good People charity organization since February 1999
