Merriam-Webster : Webster's For Students Dictionary/Thesaurus Shrink-Wrapped Set before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Webster's For Students Dictionary/Thesaurus Shrink-Wrapped Set:

By R King I bought this set for an eight year old to carry with them to school and back home most days (now that has turned into some days) :-). This student has had to define their vocabulary words since 1st grade and the dictionary they had was a little dated and why this set was purchased. The books are relatively small but quite resource packed and I would recommend the set as a consideration for you if you need one of each or the ones you have are more than 5 years old. I know the books get used most days now but sometimes the student using them ends up with more questions initially about the word being defined due to the concise nature of the definitions given. For carrying around I doubt you can do much better in size or content than these books but you will need another thesaurus and dictionary in addition, the kind that sit on a shelf to explain in greater depth on occasions where these books stop short.

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. perfect for my 5th grader...will take her into middle school. By iGeminiperfect for my 5th grader. The definitions are simple and to the point, contains the base word and the different suffixes as well. But why don't any of these dictionaries have the word HEIST?? It was one of her spelling words and we couldn't help but notice that none of the many dictionaries we had contained that word. Thesaurus is great as well, and we use it even more than the dictionary. I highly recommend buying the combo. Arrived quick and well sealed. Great buy for the price.

I bought these for my middle schooler thinking a student set would be enough. She is having a very hard time finding her vocabulary words which is extremely frustrating for both of us. The words aren't even hard or obscure but still, they aren't there. I will be getting her a different set ASAP.
